History of Rottneest Island

- More than 500,000 people visit Rottneest Island each year.
- The Island is 11 kilometres long, 4.5 kilometres at its widest point, and the land area measures 1,900 hectares.
- It is a 24km ride around the Island. Allow at least 2.5 hours for a leisurely cycle.
- First records of human occupation are from more than 6,500 years ago when the Island was still attached to the mainland. Since its initial European exploration from the 17th Century and its settlement in 1829, Rottneest Island has been through a number of stages of development and has been used for a variety of purposes.

Keep Safe this Weekend!

Bikes are great fun and an awesome way to explore with friends. However last year the nursing post treated nearly 500 bicycle injuries so please note:

- WA road rules apply on Rotto
- Bicycle helmets are compulsory
- Always ride on the left side of the road in single or double file
- Wear lights at night
- Stay on designated roads and cycle tracks
- Be cautious on declines
- Always carry water with you
- Do not ride bikes, scooters, skateboards or rollerblades through the mall.
